Hi Jennie,

We updated the ad to reflect the correct URL for the OSC site. There is a separate URL for the Administrative Record documents. I'm not sure if the OSC is planning to provide a link to the AR documents from the OSC page, but that would be easy to do---does that help?

Hi Helen - I meant to ask this morning...do we know if the "epaosc" URL in the ad is correct (i.e., will readers be able to access the documents using that website)?
Thanks!
Jennie

Helen -

Is the URL for the Dimock website correct? I enter "www.epaosc.org/dimock" and it asks me to log in. For my own purposes, I've been using "www.epaosc.org/dimock_residential_groundwater" to access site information.

Just wanted to check.

Thanks!

Jennie

Subject: Final Dimock Paid Ad for Administrative Record

Hi Everyone...a follow up from our meeting this morning. Please let me know if you have any questions.

The AR will be available for public inspection at the near-site repository on the day the paid ad is schedule to run - Thursday, March 15, 2012. A printed copy of the Administrative Records will be available for public inspection in the AR Reading Room in Region 3 (Philadelphia) - and an electronic copy will be available on the internet at www.epa.gov/arweb on the same day.
